

The Community Justice Centre invites you to attend the

Community Witnessing Ceremony

In the K'ómoks Big House, 6:30 - 9:30 PM on Friday, September 30, 2016

The Critical Incident Response Protocol will be signed by over 100 local arts & cultural organizations, local and aboriginal governments, faith communities, social service agencies, ethnic and cultural groups, community groups, and many others representing the wide diversity of our community.

All are invited

All are welcome

featuring: A Welcome and Speech by Chief Robert Everson, Premiere of a new choral work by Brian Tate "Nakeestla", Performance by the Kumugwe Dancers, choral music by the Coastal Voices Chamber Choir, participation in "The Peace Dance" by all those attending.

A reception will follow the Ceremony in the K'ómoks Band Hall.

The Critical Incident Response Protocol identifies how we, as a community acting together, plan to respond to incidents of racism, homo/transphobia, and hate crimes in the Comox Valley. It declares our desire to work together to create a diverse, welcoming, and inclusive community for all to enjoy.
